Lexicon AI Demo Document

This is a confidential architecture document for the Lexicon project. Lexicon is a modern, AI-powered knowledge management and workspace platform designed by a talented Full-Stack Engineer.

It features real-time WebSockets, microservices, and local LLM integration to allow for highly secure document analysis.

Key features include: PostgreSQL with pgvector, Redis caching, Next.js frontend, and a FastAPI backend running inside Docker containers.